Yep very depressing. This one too btw. How could graphs D & F be so identical? They seem like different experiments (each repeated n = 3 times?) Not sure what's going on here.

For nth time, I remain agnostic if direct binding of PTI-125 to FLNA is real as I retain other hypothesis, ex: allosteric interaction with a key FLNA binding partner, or A strand inhibitor. Still, there's clear in vivo data that shows FLNA related activity outside the Wang lab.

Wut? The premise of the entire charade (both for AD and for Bordey's bizarre claims) is that the drug binds FLNA. The key data \$SAVA showed to establish that is physically impossible and MADE UP. It is all a complete fraud.

Then wait for P3 results so your future company can use that as evidence to sell a @US FDA approved Alzheimer's drug. Atleast we would have found something that actually works for AD patients. Trying to desperately halt the trials suggests a motive very different 😊

Are you willing to give that chance to the neutrals who don't care about \$sava or the mistakes in paper/patent but wanna see if the drug can work? It can't be passing the phase 2 trials or reducing hard-to-treat seizures if it didn't have any biological activity in the brain.

-  Jesse brodkin @jesse_brodkin ...
No. I don't want to reward fraudulent data. \$sava should be punished so that others do not attempt this scam. The best thing for AD research and patients is to maintain a fraud free and fact based investment environment.

I would be willing to compromise on throwing Remi, Wang and any that knew in jail, liquidating the co and all the officers, allowing a small 3 mo blind P2 trial (as was planed) run by a reputable CRO to proceed. This would handle my perverse incentive problem and allow you hope.

Can you atleast wait for CMS trial results? That's a randomised trial

Can you atleast wait for CMS trial results? That's a randomised trial with most definitely much increased oversight 😞 That should conclude much sooner than P3. You can attempt to throw whoever you dislike (for interfering with your "perverse incentive") in jail.

Jesse brodkin @jesse_brodkin · Dec 10, 2021

It's not randomized until 12mo, then 6 more months, meanwhile Remi and Wang are free and polluting the research and investment environment, so no. Will you support removing Remi and the board for gross misconduct and appoint a caretaker CEO?

We can all agree that swift and fair resolutions to the investigations is in everyone's best interest. That is why we are investigating ourselves and pushing hard for government and regulatory action.

More: if their binding data are "suspect", like the rest of the preclinical and biomarker data, they have no validated efficacy data. With that background, their safety data is, at best, suspect. So, we should let $SAVA expose patients and do planned lumbar punctures?? NO!
